Guardian ad Litem Concerns:

CASA’s concerns relate to the best interest of the child – their physical and emotional health, safety, and welfare and minimizing unacceptable risk. CASA is not limited to the Department’s concerns of imminent danger or safety concerns. Concerns need to be tied to the recommendations and the body of the report must include factual information that supports the concerns. Do not cut and paste the same concerns, unless they continue to be current concerns.

Concerns to identify in this section might include: number of placements, Department’s conditions to return home, Department’s decision to keep children in protective supervision, parent’s overall lack of progress on a Case Plan, child’s access to services, child’s emotional well-being, etc.
